July/August weather has been hit and miss, some cracker winters days interspersed with wet and windy days. The Wednesday gourmet club with Head Chef Malcolm Neal still seem to enjoy a good lunch despite the weather.

Several new members have joined and commenced flying. We hope that recent fun events and come and try days has helped steer these guys to our great club.

We welcome our new members Geoff Jones flying an Ares Crusader, Brian Nichol currently building / assembling a Boomerang 40 electric and Kane Charlish has purchased / sourced a second hand Boomerang 60 IC. Kane was at the Come and Try day and was a natural after only one circuit when he flew with Peter Readett

The club field looks fantastic at the moment. Sadly Trevor Tomsett has had to pull back on his club and flying activities so we need others to step up and get dizzy going round and round on the tractor. We wish him and Lois the best and hope we see him back soon. He leaves a big hole to fill.

Still too early with magazine submission dates to report on how Shaun Jacobsen has done competing in the World Pylon Championships in Sweden. Let's hope he has done himself proud.

Peter & Sean Readett competed in another Precision Aerobatics event at Constellation in July in really windy conditions. At the start of the day it didn't look like the event would even take place. It was a credit to all 10 pilots that fronted that they all took to the air with not a single mishap. The first few flights saw planes disappear into low cloud. Four rounds were flown in all 4 classes. Sean pipped the "old man" (flying Dad's plane) by barely a few points, which saw them take 1st and 2nd respectively in Sportsman. Both earned a Promotion point and were the only pilots on the day to do so. Peter has now earned 3 points from 3 events and is now off to Advanced. Sean has 2 points from 2 events with one point left to get.

The club is addressing noise issues in the area. The committee is spending a lot of time and energy ensuring everything is being done to protect our rights to keep flying whilst enjoying a good relationship with neighbours. It is interesting visiting other clubs and sites and seeing that not too many clubs don't have a minority element making work for us all to keep flying.

It goes without saying that a sensible approach by members in all clubs in the way planes are flown, will ultimately play a big part in the outcome of these issues. Electric power helps but we don't want that to be the only eventual option.

Our "something different" for the month is John Coomb's Fugly, built from 2 previous crashed aircraft, the tail heavy beast looped and crashed on its first flight. There is an irony in there somewhere. We also hope Johns hands and fingers are on the mend, remember rotating propellers damage hands, thanks to the members that jumped in and helped John at the time.

Media Release

6 July 2017

ROYAL ADELAIDE SHOW TO HOST FPV DRONE RACING WORLD CUP

The 2017 Royal Adelaide Show FPV Championship has now been included on the 2017 FAI World Cup calendar, making it the first Australian drone racing event to be included on the world circuit and one of only 15 events internationally to be given this status.

The certification handed down by Federation Aeronautique Internationale (FAI), the governing body for World Air Sports, means all competitors entered in the 2017 Royal Adelaide Show FPV international contest are eligible for the World Cup.

Neil Tank, President of the Model Aeronautical Association of Australia (MAAA), says it's great the Adelaide event can host the highest level of competition in the sport.

"Drone racing is rapidly becoming a popular sport and competition activity and the Royal Adelaide Show will be the first World Cup event conducted in the southern hemisphere," Mr Tank said. "The first FPV Drone Racing Championship conducted at the Royal Adelaide Show in 2016 was a huge success and we are privileged that this year's event has been recognised by the FAI by the awarding of World Cup status."

Last year's event attracted 30 entrants, including interstate competitors from the ACT, New South Wales, Queensland, Victoria and, Western Australia.

"By having this status and being included in the World Cup calendar opens the potential for South Australia to see some of the best FPV Drone Racing pilots in the world. During each race throughout the event, competitors scores are aggregated to decide the winner. The event can only get bigger and better."

Chief executive of the Royal Agricultural & Horticultural Society of South Australia Mr John Rothwell said the Society was thrilled to be hosting a World Cup event.

"Staging competitions is at the core of the Society's charter and the level of competition at the Royal Show is coveted across many industries. To have a competition recognised at this level is a great outcome for the Drone competition at the Show and we look forward to presenting this to both the competitors and the public," Mr Rothwell said.

Information on the 2017 Royal Adelaide Show FPV World Cup competition can be found by visiting www.theshow.com.au or contacting the Royal Adelaide Show on (08) 8210 5211. Competitor entries close 5.00pm Friday 28 July 2017 (ACST).

The public are welcome to view the competition every night of the Royal Adelaide Show, to be held 1 – 10 September 2017.
