

Need a mass notification service? SPECIAL OFFER for all GSFA members ccAlert™ is a mass notification service that offers emergency responders the ability to keep in touch with others with a single message.

The service allows an individual to send a web-based message to an individual or a group of individuals via the devices that people have (e.g., mobile phone, pager, email). Messages can be mass alerts to notify members of an emergency such as a fire or a non-emergency note for an open shift change.

The solution:

- does not require any additional hardware or software
- provides secure, rapid communication
- allows communication across multiple departments
- sends messages based on levels of priority
- provides customized teams and groups
- allows multiple devices per individual

All members of the Georgia State Firefighter's Association can trial the service for two free months, no obligations, and receive a 10% discount off the regular price of the service.

For those interested in trialing the service, please mention the discount code GSFA2008 and contact Sunny Ahn at (978) 819-4110 or email him at sunny@ccalert.net.

ccAlert is the exclusive mass notification service for the Georgia State Firefighter's Association.
