

“Whydronics”

presented by

ACCA of Upstate New York

Hydronics has become an increasingly important part of every HVAC contractor’s skill and knowledge set. Without the knowledge of Hydronics, you will be at a competitive disadvantage. Not knowing all about energy efficient Hydronics will put you at an even greater disadvantage.

Join us as Jim Alfieri from Frank P. Langley and Dave Brockmann from WMS Sales explain all about improved circulation pumps, zone valves, other Hydronic products that reduce energy consumption and more.

When: Wednesday, February 8, 2012

Social Hour at 5:30 pm, Business Meeting at 6:00 pm
Buffet Dinner at 6:15 pm followed by, “Whydronics”

Where: Burgundy Basin Inn

1361 Marsh Road, Pittsford, NY 14534

Cost: $26 per person for members and non-members.

(The meeting is free to one attendee from each ACCA Contractor Member Company, Gold & Silver Associate Member companies. HVAC Instructors and Full Time Students currently enrolled in an HVAC program at BOCES, MCC or Alfred can attend at $21.00 per person.)

Make your reservations today by contacting Michelle DeLeo at 585-232-4770, fax to 585-787-2286, or e-mail to director@accapstateny.org.