

International Journal of Africana Studies

Call for Papers

Policy: The International Journal of Africana Studies is designed to interrogate and analyze the lived experiences of Africana people. The Journal focuses on the interrogation of Africana people and societies from the perspective of people of African descent. It is primarily concerned with examining the historical, organizational, political, socio-economic and cultural dynamics and practices of African people. The Journal promotes scholarly debate and research on issues relating to the African global experience. It will only publish original scholarly papers and creative works that focus on critical issues confronting Africana development and humanity. Articles must be well written, rigorously researched and significantly contribute to the field of Africana Studies.

Submission: Electronic Submissions are encouraged. You may submit your manuscript online at info@ncbsonline.org. Standard mail submissions are also accepted. You may submit double-spaced copies of each manuscript (one copy must be single-sided), along with a computer disk copy saved in Microsoft Word, to Dr. Charles E. Jones, Associate Editor, International Journal of Africana Studies, (address below). All self-citations should be removed from manuscripts. Papers should not exceed 30 pages, including notes, tables and references. All footnotes must be included in the list of references. Do not embed tables and illustrations within the manuscript. Previously published work or work currently under consideration elsewhere will not be accepted. Include with manuscripts a cover page naming author(s), rank, institutional affiliations(s), a telephone and fax number, and an email address. IJAS follows the guidelines of the 15th edition of the Chicago Manual of Style. Manuscript disk will not be returned.

Revision Process: All submissions to the Journal are subject to a blind review process. Papers are evaluated for their scholarly soundness, originality and intellectual contribution to the discipline. The Journal only publishes articles that have not been published or accepted for publication elsewhere. To ensure return of a manuscript, authors must enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Subscriptions: Regular institutional rates are $70.00 per year, $35.00 per issue. The individual's rate is $40.00 per year, $20.00 per issue. Add $10.00 for subscriptions outside the United States. All orders must be pre-paid. Subscriptions are accepted on a yearly basis only. Checks and money orders should be made payable to: International Journal of Africana Studies.
