ATTENTION FARMINGTON RESIDENTS:

Please check your combination detectors. A combination detector is an alarm that is for both smoke and carbon monoxide. Back in 2016, Kiddle Brand Model #KN-COSM-IB combination detectors were recalled. The manufacture dates on the detectors were 4/7/2008 and 5/18/2008. The Town of Webster had an incident earlier this month involving one of these detectors. They found that although the detector had a green LED light lit that once the test button was pressed the detector failed to test with no alert to the occupant. If you have one of these detectors, please replace it as soon as possible.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact my office.

Best regards,

Dan Delpriore
Code Enforcement Officer
