

It's sad what people will do!

The little pleasure provided for those with little in their lives, is taken from them by those who have everything!

The swings in the picture below are in a village living setting specifically for people with an intellectual or multiple disability and high support needs.

