

US Human Rights Handbook for People with Development Disabilities

The Harvard Project on Disability has published the Handbook with an easy to read explanation of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD).

This publication is designed for anyone wanting a clear explanation of the CRPD, including people with intellectual disabilities, their organisations, and their advocates. The handbook is targeted at self advocates

To download a copy (in PDF) click <http://www.hpod.org/pdf/we-have-human-rights.pdf>

LISA Comment: This is an interesting document! It is, however, a 4.5MB download, due to the graphics and pictures.