Free Bed Bug Training!!!

Bed bugs have become a major challenge in our area. They can be found in any home and are easily transferred on clothing or belongings to other locations. They are master hitch hikers!

We are trained and certified in the identification and treatment of bed bugs. Our approach to prevention, control and elimination is custom, cost conscience and cutting edge.

People may have an infestation and either not know it, or be afraid to speak up and get help. Many people accidentally brought them home from their workplace, store or travels.

The most common misconception about bed bugs is that you must have a dirty environment to have them, when, in fact, some of the cleanest homes find themselves battling these pests.

We offer free training sessions to individuals and groups.

Free Training!!!

Our goal is to educate those who work in multi-unit, and individual homes or facilities as to what bed bugs are, how to identify them, and how to decrease the spread of these pests.

Knowledge is the first step to slowing down this growing epidemic. Early detection is key to a cost effective solution.

If you are interested in scheduling a presentation from our leading expert, please give us a call.

Our presentation only lasts about an hour and can be done almost anywhere.

So, if you want to ensure that you or your staff has the knowledge to make informed decisions about the prevention and identification of bed bugs, please call us. Classes fill up quickly so please don't hesitate.
