

United States Navy Biography

Jamie A. Fraser-Loria
Captain, U.S. Navy

Captain Fraser-Loria is a native of Atlanta, Georgia and attended Wake Forest University where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Politics and Speech Communication. She was commissioned as a Naval Intelligence Officer in 1996 through Officer Candidate School in Pensacola, Florida.

Milestone assignments and deployments include Intelligence Officer for Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron One One Seven (VAW-117) in USS CARL VINSON; Targeteer for Carrier Airwing Eleven (CVW-11) in USS CARL VINSON; Intelligence Staff Officer with U.S. Seventh Fleet in USS BLUE RIDGE; and most recently, Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence (N2) for Commander, Task Force FIVE ONE (CTF-51) in Bahrain. During this assignment she also served as the Director of Intelligence (J2) for the Joint Combined Planning Cell supporting Coalition Yemen Operations Decisive Storm and Renewal of Hope.

Shore assignments include U.S. Forces Korea, NORAD and USNORTHCOM, Navy Personnel Command, Nimitz Operational Intelligence Center at the Office of Naval Intelligence, and the OPNAV Staff where she served as Special Assistant to the 37th Vice Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Mark Ferguson.

Captain Fraser-Loria is a graduate of the Navy Postgraduate School in Monterey, California, where she earned a Master of Arts in National Security Affairs, with a concentration in Middle Eastern studies. She also completed an associate fellowship with the Chief of Naval Operations Strategic Studies Group in Newport, Rhode Island (SSG XXIII). She is a Joint Qualified Officer.

Decorations include the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medal, the Joint Service Achievement Medal, and the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal.

Captain Fraser-Loria currently serves as the Division Chief for the Strategic Threats Division, Directorate of Intelligence, NORAD and USNORTHCOM. She resides in Colorado Springs with her son Nathaniel.