November Pro@ctive Update: Year End Tax Planning Services & Advisory Services

A lot has changed in the tax code this year. We have had 3 tax law changes (which have been previously distributed to you) as well as a 4th one in the works. Please contact us if you would like a consultation to review how these changes affect you, your business and your future business and personal financial decisions.

Business Advisory Services

Most of the changes in the tax code encourage you to spend, but that can reduce your cash levels and/or increase your debt levels. Is that the best decision for you and your business? You can contact Pro@ctive CPA and we will talk you through your decision giving you the pros and cons on the business side, tax side and personal finance side.

Can your business weather the recession? A lot of publications state that we just entered a recession, enough most everyone has been feeling the pain of one for most of the year. Pro@ctive CPA can analyze your businesses financial statements and educate you on how to strengthen your business position. WARNING, hard work, sacrifice, spotting opportunities and staying focus is needed!
