QUARTERLY MIND BODY & SPIRIT NEWSLETTER

Hi all,

We are at the beginning of a new year and I don't know about all of you but I am hoping and praying that 2018 is a bit calmer, a bit lighter, and a lot better! But why do I feel that way? Why do I hold any expectations for a new year? After all, do I not create my own reality? Isn't it I who can change the direction of my sails if my ship isn't going the way I want it to? Perhaps we hear those things so often that we forget that sometimes we need to just hold on tight because we don't always have as much control as we think we might!? And sometimes we have more control than we think! We might not have control over the choices that others make but we do have control over how we think and act. We have control over what we do with what gets thrown at us. And the most important thing to remember is not to be so hard on yourself when you fail in your thoughts or actions, because as I said we don't always have complete control. We can't always be a leader, other times we MUST be leaders.

We teach a lot of ideas in the "new age" philosophy. We have taught that one need not allow certain aspects of negativity into their life. We teach that it is our decision what kind of life we choose to live and then we can make it happen. We speak of making choices before we came to this earthly existence. We all made choices about what we wanted to learn while here, but we were in Spirit form, so a bit of understanding is necessary. We sell books about attraction and how what we put out, into the universe, comes back to us. And I know I am always telling people to not blindly follow anyone! We must look to our leader within to decide who to trust because we must trust ourselves before trusting anyone else. I believe whole heartedly that all of this is true and makes sense. It also puts a lot of pressure on us. Sometimes that's okay but when we really don't have control, for whatever reason, when is it time to "let go and let All That Is" handle it? And when is it time to step forward and be a leader? When do we have control and when do we not? This can be difficult to decipher but this I believe is the reason why we teach what we do. It is all about empowerment. When we can make a difference we must. When we need to step away we must. When we need to know the difference we check within and we check in with the Universe.

We must remember we are all leaders in a way and that we make a difference every day. By the choices we make every single day to choose kindness instead of malice, we are leading. We lead when we show others that fear does not have control over us. We show others how to lead when we encourage them to step up and do what they think they cannot do. A true leader empowers others without discouraging. Great leaders never need to have control over others because they lead by example. Also the greatest of leaders make their followers stronger, never weaker! And all can be leaders. But when is it ok to be a follower? You will know. When is it ok to be a blind follower? Never!

There are times when we can step aside and merely observe because that is what we are called to do. You see, the voice inside comes from All That Is. When we check inside ourselves for answers we are checking in with God, Buddha Philosophy, Allah, Universe, or Great Spirit, etc. We have a direct line to All That Is because we are a part of All That Is. So when that voice inside is pushing you to be a leader and speak up, then you must speak up! When the voice inside is calling out to you to follow, then follow. When the voice inside tells you to rest because there is nothing you can do right now but hold on, then hold on tight and trust it's going to be okay. But we must listen to know what to do. In trusting our inner voice to let us know when it is time to lead, follow, or step away we are empowered. Try not to play guessing games with this because it can be very discouraging, disappointing, and aggravating to go down that rabbit hole! It really is simple. If you listen to and feel what's going on inside yourself, the answers are there. It is simply there. Then act because you have that ability to do what must be done. When changes are needed there are three choices. Pray, Follow, or Lead. These may change from time to time so it's not a one-time check in!

We all have a role in making 2018 a better year. Even if you were not like me and loved everything about 2017, things can always be better.

PROTECTION STONES REVISTED

There have been many people who have visited us asking for protection stones again recently. Perhaps it has increased once again because there seems to be much more fear lately? For whatever the reason, many people are asking and so it is time to revisit stones for protection.

Throughout the ages people have worn different amulets to protect themselves from a variety of things. But nothing has surpassed the possession or wearing of stones for a sense of security. It is prolifically found in ancient writings and even some hieroglyphs illustrate the wearing of stones for what some scholars believe to be protection. Two oldest protection amulets were made from amber and ammonites. Shells, bones and stones seem to have been our first adornments but stones seem to have the most purpose other than symbolic.

When someone comes in for advice on a protection stone first thing that we might ask is protection from what? Is it truly physical danger? Is it perceived fears or dream state fears? Is it psychic attack? Is it protection during travel? Maybe it is protection around water? Or perhaps one needs protection from themselves? The list goes on.....When one finally looks at their fear, and identifies it clearly, many times that is all it actually takes to bring peace and security. Sometimes it requires a little assistance and this is where stones can help.

We have, but some have forgotten, a natural shield for protection. When someone comes in that needs their shield "up", we suggest Chinese flourite. Flourite provides a shield, or helps us to remember through vibration or energy, that we already have one and help get it working! Fluorite can also be placed in an office as a boost to one's own shield? Seafarers of yesteryear use to wear aquamarine to protect against drowning. It won't hold a head up out of the water once you fall in but it will help to keep your senses to prevent falling in. If one does fall in it is there to help one remember how to swim as we all have that innate talent, we have just forgotten. That is just a couple of examples that shows us how many ways they can protect us. All the protection stones work in similar ways to that, meaning different ways to help through energy vibrations.

Below I am listing what I believe to be some of the more common and important "protection" stones and how they assist us. This is not a complete list as there are many more. Please keep in mind that this is only a guide.

If you've done therapy to get your inside less messy but your home can't seem to get into shape then perhaps this group might help. This isn't a therapy group and it isn't organization 101; however, it is much like a weight watchers support system for those who can't seem to manage clutter. This is a group that will provide accountability and help you gain control of your "stuff". Not facilitated by a therapist but by someone like you...someone with experience in clutter. (Not for those who feel clutter is not doing dishes one evening but for those 2 loads shy of becoming a hoarder. In other words, it isn't the "Biggest Loser" show but also not for those wanting to lose the last ten pounds for their class reunion.) Must come to first one to join, but can miss others.

(No Sign up after noon on the day before class)

Old favorites are new again!

We have had a variety of wonderful products over the years and some have become staples that you depend on us having time and time again. The names may have stayed the same but new faces and varieties are found and brought in! Listed below are some of the classics that we know you love and although our supply may sometimes be small, the quality never goes down. We try hard to bring you the quality we know we would like and have found for ourselves. If we would not want it in our homes, chances are it won't be found in our shop! So come on in and say hello to some old friends (products, staff, and maybe Merri and I), and possibly meet a like mind or two (someone else that might be just like you!) in the process! We will be waiting to help you find what you're looking for here at Mind Body & Spirit! P.S. Thank you for all your support! You are appreciated more than you know!
