ARE YOU EXPERIENCING BURNOUT?

Tapping the Source of Power

Central Truth: Perseverance and endurance are not enough!

Do you ever have a day when you just feel you are used up? Have you ever hit a time when you realize that there is just nothing more to give? These feelings have not been uncommon in any time; however, they appear especially prevalent in ours.

One of the current words used to describe that feeling is "burn out." In other times it was just called being spiritually exhausted, tired or weary. There are a myriad of camps and retreat centers which address nothing else.

Why do you suppose we have fallen prey to this particular malady so frequently today?

My best guess is that many of us who are Christians have lost sight of the real goal. Human beings often need to be able to have an end in sight if we are to retain our enthusiasm. The work of Christian service is never easy. It is sometimes filled with disappointment and hardship. Without a clear view of a finish line, the race becomes too difficult. The Apostle Paul could speak of finishing the race as he neared the end of his life because he knew where the finish line was. He had continued to run, in good times and in bad, because the goal was never in doubt.

Paul also knew how difficult the race could be. So the determined apostle also encouraged other runners with words like, "But as for you, brethren, do not grow weary of doing good" (II Thessalonians 3:13 NASB). He also encouraged the Christians of Galatia with these words: "Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary" (Galatians 6:9).

Jesus spoke of being "weary and heavy-laden" with sin and teachings that exhausted and defeated them; He promised His followers relief and blessing (Matthew 11:28). Paul wrote to those who were worn out doing good. We will reap in due time if we do not exit the race. The light at the end of the tunnel, the finish line, the reward for continuing, are all more than phrases to be quoted; they are also promises from God Himself. The writer of Hebrews continues this same encouragement with these words: "For consider Him who has endured such hostility by sinners against Himself, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart" (Hebrews 12:3). Keep Jesus before you as an antidote against that weariness and the resultant hopelessness of forgetting your goal.

While looking to the finish and contemplating the reward is certainly motivating, we must never forget that the deeper motive of our "doing good." That cardinal motive of all good things must be love. The book of Revelation calls Christians to "perseverance and endurance." Jesus also reminds us in His message to the churches in the book of Revelation that perseverance and endurance are not enough. God's Son reminded the church in Ephesus of this truth: "... you have perseverance and have endured for My name's sake, and have not grown weary. But I have this against you, that you have left your first love. Therefore remember from where you have fallen, and repent and do the deeds you did at first; or else I am coming to you and will remove your lampstand out of its place—unless you repent' (Revelation 2:3-5).

When we are motivated out of guilt, competitiveness, fear, or anger, we burn out more quickly and more completely. This is especially true when we feel like we didn't get the "big pay off" for doing what we did. We forget that such motivation is based on our power and our motives and not God's grace and power. Like Paul, we need to be compelled by the love of Christ — love for Christ and love like Christ's (II Corinthians 5:14). So "not losing heart" is an integral part of the journey; however, unless it is motivated by love, "it profits nothing" (I Corinthians 13:3).

Run the race with perseverance.

Run and do not lose heart.

Run in expectation of the finish.

Run always compelled by love!

I'm not sure where you are on your journey. I hope you have learned that quick fixes are nearly always wrong and that shortcuts to spirituality are nearly always Satan's traps. Instead, enjoy the journey. Speak openly to God about the matters of your heart. Look for the wide sweep of your story and remain faithful for the long haul. And when it is hard to find the words to express your joys, sorrows, reservations, frustrations, delights, praise, loneliness, confidence, and fear? Open the Psalms and let them help you pour your heart, in faith, to the God of the beginning, the end, and the journey. The world is in challenging times. Reports from around the world remind us of radical groups that attack Christians, burn church buildings, and even murder believers in the middle of the night. While a world wide problem, it is especially acute in Africa where people have been so open to the Gospel of Christ.

We have read reports of a missionary imprisoned for months on trumped up charges that could cost him his life.

At McClain Ministries, we are urging you to encourage your church leaders, your group Bible study, your Sunday school class and your friends to devote quality time in prayer for all believers everywhere who profess their faith under threat of harm. Pray for God's Word, grace and love to triumph over hatred, brutality and death. Many centuries ago the saying was born: "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church." While true, let's pray that the Gospel can triumph without the loss of life in our time.

Those of us who can freely declare our allegiance to God must give thanks and recognize that our blessings are given to us to bless others, especially those facing hardship because of their faith. Make a commitment personally to a specific nation where persecution now exists. Pray for it every day. Learn all you can about that country. Pray for the political leaders, the missionaries, the ministers, the church leaders, the Christians and their children by name. Ask God's power and grace to triumph through them even through these difficult times.

The book of Acts ends with Paul imprisonment. Yet the last word of Luke's story is the adverb "unhinderedly." Luke's point, not even persecution and the threat of death can hinder the liberating power of the Gospel. As Paul reminded Timothy (II Timothy 2:9), even though Christians may be imprisoned and in chains, "God's word is not chained!" Let's pray that His people will not be either!

Scriptural References:

"Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary" (Galatians 6:9).

Where Is Your Heart?

Tapping the Source of Power

Central Truth: The Lord is still out there in the multitudes!

The sun rises and the sun sets. It makes its rounds each day. What has it seen? Though there is a great difference in the scenes over which it passes on its daily course, there are patterns which do not seem to change. In every country there are the rich and the poor. When Jesus said, "The poor you have with you always," (Mark 14:7) He was not limiting His pronouncement to Judea. It was a fact that would span both distance and time. Even as the Rich Man was little aware and undoubtedly unmoved by the plight of Lazarus, sitting in misery at his gate and desiring only the crumbs that fell from his table, many today with wealth to spare look the other way when poverty shows its hollow eyes and bloated bellies.

We would not deny that there are those who constantly and sacrificially pursue the benefit of the poor, but they find great resistance as they seek aid from a world blinded by its own selfishness and dying from its own overindulgence. One of the least watched programs on television is one which graphically portrays the plight of those human wretches huddled together in desperate situations, teetering on the brink of starvation. Hollow-eyed and bone-thin, they are unwanted reminders of man's inhumanity to his fellow man. Those who with loud cries denounce the atrocities of the prison camps of World War II, turn a deaf ear to the cries of hungry children in an unfair and uncaring world.

In the United States, wearing bracelets with the letters WWJD on them became a fad. These initials stood for the phrase, "What Would Jesus Do?" Many are reminded of the acts of morality which Jesus showed by His life of purity, but few appear to be stirred by His most pointed judgment. Depicting the final judgment, Jesus sums up the lives of those blessed by the Father and those cursed for eternity. Their acts bear little resemblance to the mighty works of holiness so touted by many religious leaders in our day. Rather, His judgment fell on the simplest of things. "I was hungry, I was thirsty, I was a stranger, I was naked, I was sick, I was in prison." Heaven and hell hung on how one responded to these situations. Did they help or did they ignore? That was the test. The protest from both sides was, "When did we see You . . . ?" And the Lord's response was, "It was what you did to the least of these that was done to Me."

It still is! The Lord is still out there in the multitudes, hungry and faint and poor. Have you fed Him? Did you give Him a drink? How would He judge you if you stood before Him today?

As long as there are people doing without the basic necessities of life in our world, godliness demands contentment and gratitude of us. It demands that we praise God for all the good things that He gives us, and it demands that we learn to say "no" to that voice inside that continually demands more, and better, and to eventually choke it down. If we have learned the habit of avarice, godliness demands repentance. And if we have been blinded and deafened by our plenty to the crushing needs of so many around us, godliness demands that we open our eyes and ears.

The fact is that there are just too many people in our world without the basic essentials of life. For a few of us in one of the most prosperous countries on the planet, how can we be anything but content? We must be content, because discontent dishonors the God who has given us so much. And beyond that, we must be content because greed leads us to spend our lives enriching ourselves while ignoring the predicament of people who really know what want is. When we're content, we see how much we have and are willing to help those who have less. When we're not, all we can see is what we want and feel so sure that we need.

Is it me, or is there something just vaguely embarrassing about the excitement with which the rest of the world accepts what America throws away? What if, instead of our cast-offs and hand-me-downs, the Body of Christ committed to generosity that was a bit more sacrificial? What do you think pleases the Lord more: a church full of well-dressed, well-groomed, people in new clothes and new cars? Or a church full of people — content with what they have been given — who have put off buying new clothes and new cars so that they can share their abundance with folks who don't have the essentials?

I think I know the answer to that, and I think you do, too.

The sun still rises, the sun still sets and in its course it passes over the acts of man, but it is not what the sun sees that we must be concerned about, it is what the Son sees, and He sees it all!

Scriptural References:

Command those who are rich in this present world not to be arrogant nor to put their hope in wealth, which is so uncertain, but to put their hope in God, who richly provides us with everything for our enjoyment. Command them to do good, to be rich in good deeds, and to be generous and willing to share. In this way they will lay up treasure for themselves as a firm foundation for the coming age, so that they may take hold of the life that is truly life (I Timothy 6:17-19) 📖

Independence Day July 4th

On July 4, 1776, we claimed our independence from Britain and Democracy was born. Every day thousands leave their homeland to come to the "land of the free and the home of the brave" so they can begin their American Dream.

The United States is truly a diverse nation made up of dynamic people. Each year on July 4, Americans celebrate that freedom and independence with barbecues, picnics, and family gatherings.

We are learning about and communicating with people of different nations, with different languages and different races throughout the world. Bringing the world closer with understanding and knowledge can only benefit all nations.

We invite all nations to celebrate with Americans this Fourth of July.

PRAISE TO OUR GOD WHO IS STILL IN CHARGE Gloria Wallace

Praise Report received by Melva on (6/18/08): Dewey Dickinson underwent surgery last night to remove his Gall Bladder. The surgery went exceptionally well and he is now resting comfortably in his room. The severe pain he had been experiencing was a result of Gall Stones. The shadow seen on his pancreas appears to be an infection that is treatable with medication. Praise the Lord. I will be speaking with him this morning after the doctor makes his rounds. His fiancée, Gloria, thanks you for your prayers.

Update: (6/24/08) - Dewey was released from the hospital today. After arriving home- immediately went out driving. He is doing extremely well and loves being out of the hospital. God is Good!

IT WASN'T A WEDDING IT WAS A SPIRITUAL BLESSING Melva McClain

I am not reporting this simply because it was the wedding of my niece Anitra Williams to Samuel Bender, but my attendance of the event was a Spiritual Blessing. The love at both the wedding and reception was a joy to experience. And I give God all the praise and glory.

My wonderful sisters Denise Jones, Sylvia Washington and of course their beloved friend Bonita Shay were the principle preparers. Gean Tucker was the wedding director the day of the event; Carolyn Michaels made the beautiful cake, Kim Myers and Lena Williams created the invitations and a myriad of other duties. The list is endless of those who assisted - many of whom are McClain Ministries' Entrepreneurs E-List members.

Here are a few pictures I would like to share with you.

THE GOD EFFECT OF PRAYER

6:00 P.M. Hour of Prayer

SPEND TIME PRAYING FOR OTHERS

Use this wonderful supernatural tool the Lord has blessed us with the 6 o'clock hour of power. This is the time to intercede for the needs of others, the concerns of the ministry, and to pray for the leadership within our community, our nation, and our world.

Hearts throbbing as one, prayers ascending to heaven multiplied by those praying in one accord. Sharing burdens, joys, and petitions to bear. Lay all your cares at the foot of the cross and encourage others to do the same. Lives are being changed. Breakthroughs are happening.

The Power of Partnership

I am so thankful our paths have crossed. In fact, I believe it was a divine appointment. Over twenty - five years ago, an encounter with God changed my life forever, and I believe He'll do the same for you. I consider it a privilege to have the opportunity to share the truth of His life-changing power and grace with you.

God called me to teach the truth of the Gospel to the body of Christ with special emphasis on God's unconditional love and the balance between grace and faith.

At McClain Ministries we are working diligently to fulfill that call by training others and by developing ministry materials designed to help you in your relationship with the Lord.

Your interest in partnership is evidence of the fact that not only has this ministry affected your life, but you also have a desire to help someone else and believe this message can provide that help. Together, through partnership, you and I can reach thousands of people with the good news of the Gospel.

I believe the message the Lord has entrusted me to deliver will change the way the body of Christ perceives God. However, it doesn't matter how important the message is or how well I deliver it, until the message is sent, no one will hear. Partnership makes the delivery possible.

The Apostle Paul understood his role as the messenger, but he also understood that partnership was not only about what he received but what the partners received as well. In Philippians 4:19 he wrote, "But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." This was written by Paul to his partners. The Philippians were the only ones who supported him after leaving town. In fact, they wanted to give more but didn't have the opportunity. Paul was saying that there is a special provision for those who recognize the power in partnership.

For me, it has never been about "you" supporting "my" ministry. If you're a partner, then consider this our ministry, and together we will accomplish God's will. In fact, I'm an extension of you and your obedience to God. Like Paul, I'm just the messenger that God has called for a specific purpose. If I fulfill that call, the fruit will be evident to everyone, and if I don't, then God will find another messenger and direct your support to that person.

Although I am committed to doing my part to bring revival to America, we have an awesome opportunity to make a big difference in people's lives around the world. Our current projects must be funded by those of us who are more blessed.

Do you remember when you first began to partake of the message from this ministry and how it affected your life? There are thousands just like you all over the world, waiting to hear the truth that will set them free. Will you help us? Together, we can do it.

You may never realize what your gifts accomplish during your life on earth, but I can promise that in eternity, people from all over the world will thank you for your investment in their lives. I want to thank you in advance for your consideration and response.

Please make your gifts payable to, "McClain Ministries". All funds given for Community Outreach projects will be used for that purpose exclusively until the projects are fully funded. Any surplus will then be applied to the McClain Ministries general account.

FROM MEDITATION TO MANIFESTATION

I am in the process of completing a new manual entitled "From Meditation To Manifestation." Here is Chapter Fifteen:

THE TRUE MEANING OF LIFE

Each and every physical life on Earth is can be likened to attending the kindergarten of the Universe, in a learning process that never ends. Even when the cycle of physical life on Earth has been transcended and we progress to the primary school of life, the path God our Divine Creator is long, but much more tranquil peaceful and harmonious, with none of the trials and tribulations experienced within the physical Earth life system. It is the destiny, and should be the primary objective of every single person without exception to graduate from the kindergarten of Earth with honors in order to progress to the next phase of Divine education. Always keep in mind that our true and ultimate purpose is to radiate God, from where we first came, and of whom we are all expressions.

It is very important to realize that life is an eternity and is one long learning process from the moment of birth to the moment of transitioning to 'Heaven,' where the work and achievements of the past life can be reviewed and reconciled.

Every single moment, both awake and asleep, is a valuable opportunity to learn an aspect of the meaning of life thereby to progress. None of these lessons should be disregarded or wasted. During life we all interact with many different people under many different circumstances, encountering many different situations, all of which are valuable opportunities for learning, progression and personal growth whether they are recognized as such or not at the time. Numerous such opportunities are presented to everyone every day and no such valuable opportunity should be wasted.

If such an opportunity is not recognized or is ignored, the same lesson will present itself again in the future.

It is most important therefore to consider each and every situation and to understand its true meaning in life, learn the lessons and to take the necessary actions associated with that lesson.

The Holy Spirit, angels and other people will all assist your learning process by creating opportunities for ongoing maturity. I have learned through mediation that there things in the physical realm that point to the emotional and spiritual part of our life. For example, if you suddenly find blocked sinks, blocked drains, blocked pipes and other blockages appearing in your life that never happened before, they might well be symbolic representations of a more fundamental blockage in your life involving your Soul or Spirit. It is as well to take time to identify where this blockage might be arising and to accordingly take the appropriate steps to resolve it. You might well for example be putting off something that could be important in your life such as moving to a different location. Whatever it is, the blockage must be identified and remedied in the process of discovering the meaning of life.

There are many other such situations in life, a common one of which is conflict with others. Frequently, situations will arise that you feel are unjust, unfair or quite simply completely wrong. Most people would react strongly to these situations, perhaps by engaging in arguments with others complaining, or simply by experiencing emotions of anger, or worse, hate. When these situations occur they are valuable opportunities for learning, growth and progression. When faced with such a situation, before reacting, stop yourself, take a very deep breath, count to five, and take the time to pray and consider the situation from all perspectives.

Ask yourself; “maybe it is I who is wrong in this situation after all”. Consider the situation from the perspective of the other person or people involved and ask yourself what you would do in these same circumstances. The ego is a very powerful adversary and will always cause you to insist that you are right and everyone else must therefore be wrong. This is just one reason why it is so exceptionally important to transcend the influence of ego and to assume full control over your own mind and actions at all times.

The ego will revel in causing trouble whenever and wherever it possibly can, and must never be allowed to do so. If the uncontrolled ego is allowed to exert its influence in this way, the lessons will not be learned and the future will be adversely affected.

There is quite simply no avoiding the lessons needing to be learned. If every human being knew the glories that await them further along the path, beyond this life cycle no person would delay for a moment in learning and practicing the glories of life. It would become a passionate desire to learn the physical lessons of the kindergarten of Earth and to progress to the glories, splendors and magnificence of the next phase of life. And you notice, I say. the next phase of life, not death.

Each situation you are presented with should be faced with complete confidence, always knowing beyond any doubts whatsoever that you are an immortal Spiritual being, a Son or Daughter of God made in the true Spiritual image of God and nothing can ever harm you.

Never miss an opportunity to help others or to provide selfless service; opportunities presented each and every day if only you watch vigilant for them.

Always give thanks for every single such opportunity arising in your life; thank God, as well as those many unseen beings of the universe who dedicate themselves to your well-being and progression out of Pure Unconditional Love and who help you in the process of learning and practicing the true meaning of life.

McCLAIN MINISTRIES ENTREPRENEUR NETWORK

"Supporting the Entrepreneurs of Today, Seeding the Entrepreneurs of Tomorrow"

The Network was created in 2006 by McClain Ministries. The idea was simple – to create a cross sector peer-group of like minded individuals who could share ideas, knowledge, inspiration and opportunities in a relaxing environment. A non trading environment where real business is discussed and introductions are welcomed. Somewhere younger Entrepreneurs can tap into the experience of those who have been there and done it – learning from their mistakes and soak up invaluable business knowledge. A transfer of wisdom that supports growing businesses, nurtures emerging talent and helps to create the wealth, jobs and opportunities that are a major contribution to the sustainable transformation of our Global economy.

The growth of the network, which has seen over 158 Entrepreneurs join forces since it was launched, proves that the concept “by Entrepreneurs for Entrepreneurs” works and it works superbly well. Our members are completely cross-sector in terms of business activity and are at all stages of development, from large, long established businesses to those just starting out with ambitious growth orientated entrepreneurial businesses.

We’re a non - profit organization whose aim is to foster enterprise and Entrepreneurship Nationwide in order to encourage more successful start-ups and assist existing businesses.

Our Vision:

To build the world's most influential community of Entrepreneurs.

Our Mission:

Engage Entrepreneurs to learn and grow.

Mission Statement:

“To use personal experience to foster and champion Entrepreneurship”

Objectives:

To take the lead in encouraging a culture of enterprise in our nation

The Network believes that by raising the image and profile of Entrepreneurs, developing emerging Entrepreneurs, encouraging Entrepreneurs to network and linking Entrepreneurs with new opportunities, the network will help develop an Entrepreneurial culture and promote enterprise nationally and internationally. The network provides a powerful cross-sector network that will mobilize the private sector under the banner of Entrepreneurship.

This is being made possible by a committed and energetic board all of whom are full-time entrepreneurs, yet are willing to devote their time and energies to a project that will benefit our nation and the world. However, this is just the start of a process that can have both a major short-term impact and sustainable long-term benefits.

To be the natural focus for high growth business owners

The Network is organized by Entrepreneurs who have high growth businesses for Entrepreneurs with high growth businesses and high growth expectations and has created peer groups that come together and share business challenges.

To help new and developing businesses

This is achieved by sharing practical experiences and providing learning opportunities for younger business people by lessen the pain and seemingly shorten the distance between the starting line and success.

Benefits of Membership:

- Membership of a group of inclusive, growth-orientated Entrepreneurs; providing support, stimulation and inspiration in a non-trading environment to help you and your business succeed
- Provides a national database for consumers
- Free access to many Entrepreneurial events
- Access to our mentoring program – we can match up members who need help or guidance on particular issues with those who have the skills and experience in the relevant areas. All of our mentors come from within our broad-based membership and offer their time and support altruistically.
- The Entrepreneur Network is always working on new initiatives to promote and foster Entrepreneurship. Members are kept informed via the McClain Ministries website, through events and via our monthly newsletter.
