From Fr. Marty dated 2021

In Luke's account of the revelation of the Risen Christ, we have the two disciples who broke bread with him in Emmaus. Once they realized that this was Jesus, they went back to Jerusalem and told the others. It was then that he revealed himself to them by saying, "Peace be with you," and showing them the nail holes in his hands and feet, and then eating in front of them to prove that he was not a phantom.

Twice, he revealed to his followers while eating. So often, we equate our Mass to a time when he was revealed in the breaking of the bread and the sharing of the cup. But is that all? One experience that I had in my life happened at an annual bazaar. I wasn't ordained yet, nor in seminary, but I was a member of this little parish out in the panhandle of Nebraska. I was very involved with the bazaar, as I was coordinating all of the volunteers. This event went well, and I was tired and hungry, so I decided to get my plate and sit down and eat before I started to clean up.

I didn't see anyone I knew well, so I sat alone. I prayed a blessing, and then when I was finished, I was surrounded by people, who sat down just to be with me and share time with me. It was there that Christ revealed himself to me, through these people that I didn't really know. He was the common denominator; the one person that we all had in common!

To receive this gift, I had to stop what I was doing, and sit down and eat. That seems so simple, but we all know that our lives fill up with all kinds of activities; nevertheless, the Risen Christ wants to share our grief, busyness and preoccupations. He wants to bring us the calm of his love.

Don't be like me in the above story. I had to almost collapse before I stopped to eat. Make an appointment with yourself to find some time to stop and rest and be quiet. Take in a weekend liturgy! Pray during your day, but just stop and listen. Christ is most likely saying to you – Peace be with you. Stop what you're doing so that you can know and feel the presence of the Risen Christ today! Alleluia!

We thank you as we enter the third month of praying for the unborn and their mothers. At this stage of development, the fetus has found comfort in sucking his/her thumb. Fingernails are present. He/she can smile, practice breathing and is sensitive to touch. So uniquely created with so much development in just 12 weeks and still only approximately the size of a lime. Please pick up a prayer card located at the display in the south gathering area. Please keep praying with us.
