Shelia Fredrick, a flight attendant for Alaska Airlines was doing her daily job when she noticed a terrified, disheveled girl sitting next to an old man who was dressed nicely. Fredrick knew something was not right, so while serving, she whispered in girl's ear to go to the bathroom where she left a note asking "if she is okay". The girl responded with "I need help". Fredrick alerted the pilot and eventually, police was waiting at the terminal after the plane landed, and the girl was saved from a human trafficker.
