

CREDIT: U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR / CC BY-SA 2.0 / BUNDESARCHIV / CC-BY-SA 3.0

Germans, their military not fully mechanized, relied heavily on horses during World War II. So when American soldier Joe Medicine Crow stole 50 of them from under their noses, singing a tribal war song all the while, it made a difference.

Montana is the first,
and only, state to ban
the requirement of vaccination as a condition of employment
as it is deemed “discrimination” and a violation of the state’s human rights laws.

The Side That Screamed Nazi For 4 Years

Is Now Doing Actual Nazi Stuff

This is Christine Grady. She's the head of NIH Bio Ethics, they are the company who aproves drugs for the FDA. This is her husband...now do ya get it?

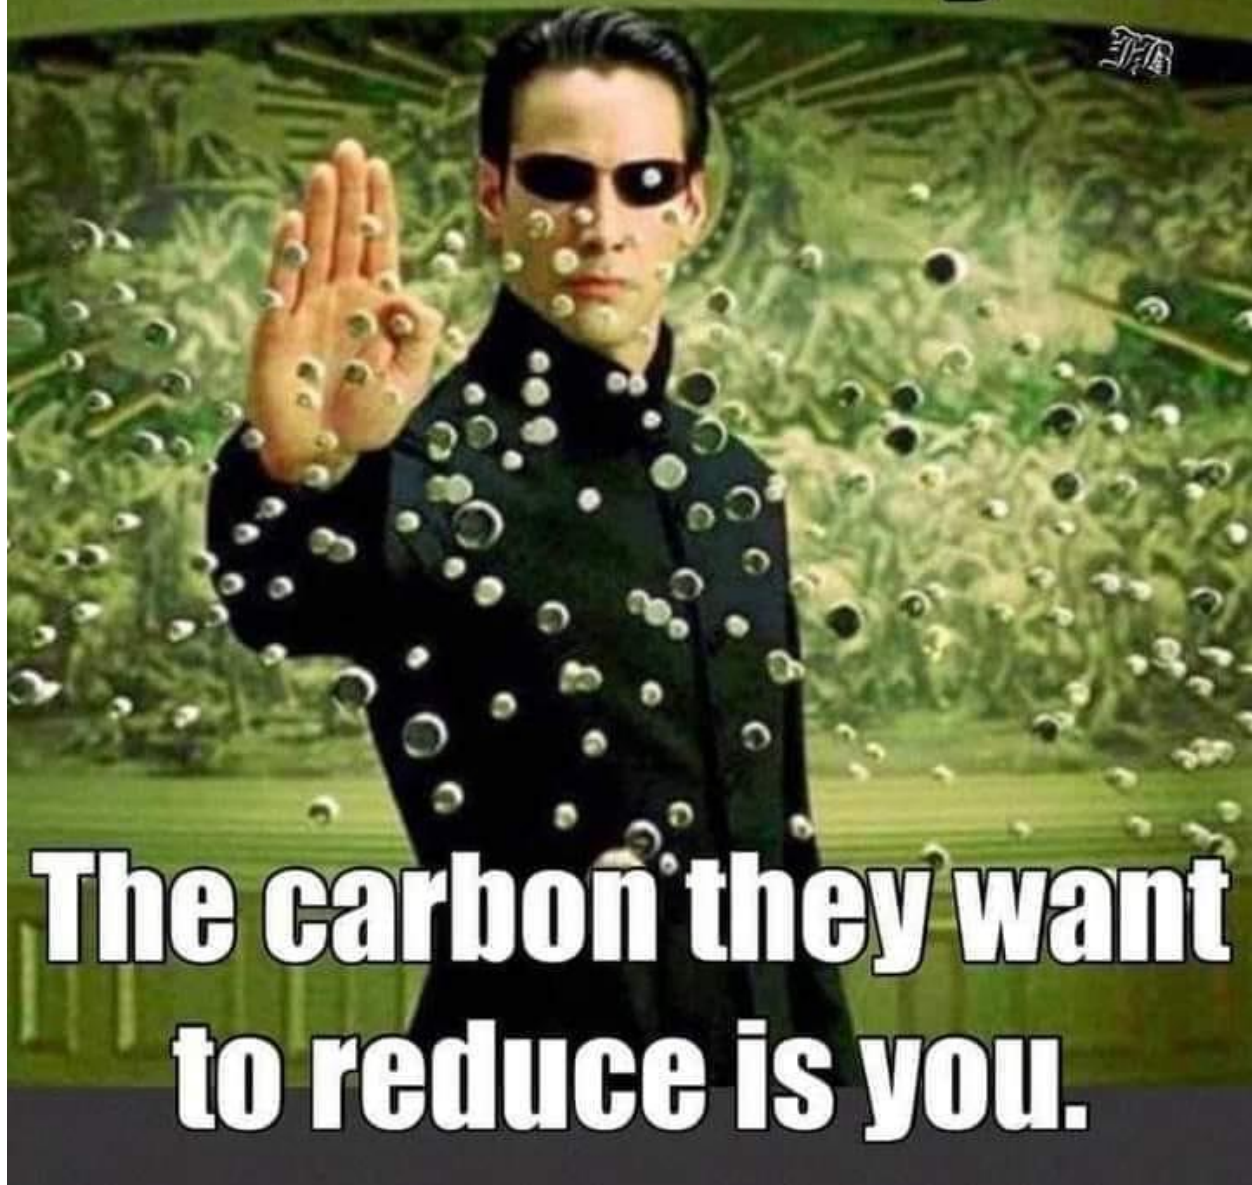

Never heard of Victoria Woodhull? Now you have.

HISTORY HUSTLE

Victoria Woodhull was born into poverty in an abusive household, and was married to an alcoholic womanizer at 15. After she divorced him, Woodhull went on to own a newspaper, become the first woman to own a Wall Street stock brokerage and then in 1872, she became the first woman to run for President of the United States, choosing Frederick Douglass as her running mate.

What if I told you

The carbon they want to reduce is you.

A man followed a girl into the bathroom, stating he identified as a woman.

The man's teeth were knocked out by the girl's father, who identifies as the Tooth Fairy.

THE SIZED

DID YOU KNOW?

“Saving Private Ryan” was so realistic that visits to PTSD counselors rose and the Dept of Veteran Affairs set up a nationwide hotline for veterans who were affected by the film. What strikes people the most is the realistic depiction of the landing, as it doesn’t present the soldiers as superheroes, but rather as confused and scared men who were doing their best to survive.

www.thesized.com